Telecom Ecommerce Marketplace

Kloudville, a B2B marketplace platform provider, hired Euristiq to lead frontend development for a major client, Indosat Ooredoo Hutchison, a leading Indonesian telecom operator. Kloudville's backend couldn't wait on a redesign, so Euristiq built custom solutions to fit a new marketplace UI to the existing system.

Custom software development | Legacy modernization | AWS | Integration services

Outcomes

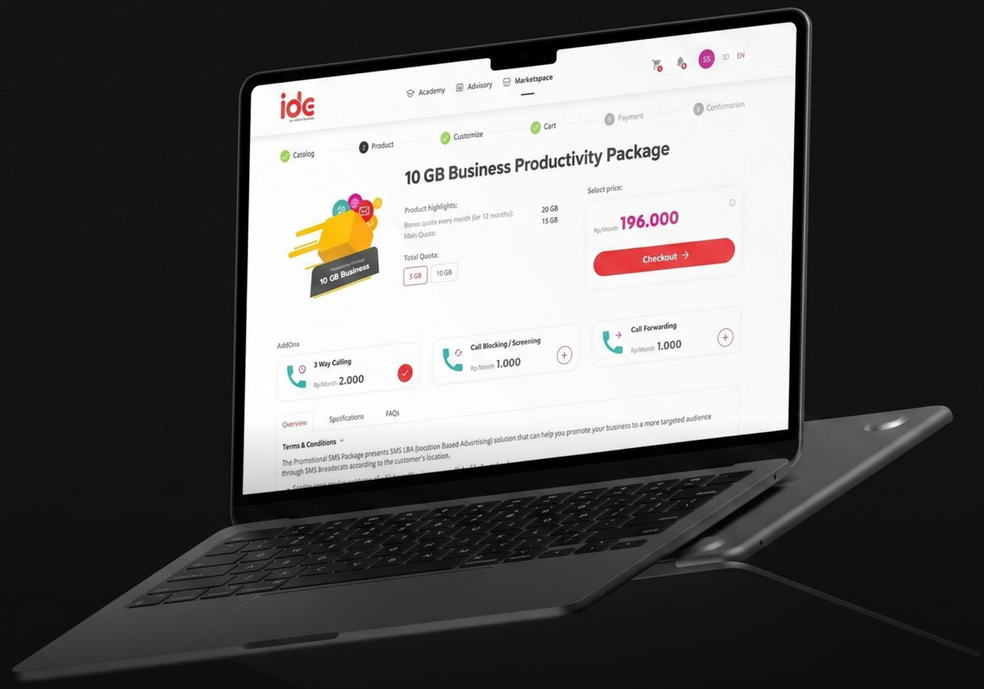

102M+ subscribers reached
The new frontend reached the operator's full subscriber base, plus 4M+ new users.

5× faster page loads
The frontend rebuild increased page-load speed fivefold over the previous interface.

3× platform performance
Overall platform performance improved threefold after launch.

Ongoing frontend partnership
Euristiq remains the client's frontend partner, shipping features and fixes.
